Pre-hung Door System Cuts Installation Time In Half

Door Engineering now offers the new Surface Mounted Pre-hung Frame for its four-fold and swinging door systems. All door panels, hinges and hardware are factory attached to tube steel frames that are designed to connect to any concrete or masonry wall. This system eliminates the need for steel embedded headers and jambs and time-consuming field welding, saving money and cutting installation time in half.

The Surface Mounted Frame's design minimizes load transfer to the building and compensates for inaccuracies in opening size and shape, assuring a weather-tight seal and secure installation every time.
